LOCATION

Estancia San Juan is located in the northwest region of Uruguay in the state of Paysandú near the river town of Paysandú. The lodge is 5 double rooms with an occupancy of 10 guns. Guests of Estancia San Juan have multiple means of arrival/departure from the lodge based on their point of origin or final destination. Most commonly, shooters traveling on international flights to Uruguay and Montevideo International Airport will be met by a San Juan Lodge representative who will assist with gun clearance, if necessary, and who will transport the group to San Juan Lodge. The drive is approximately 4 hours through scenic rural Uruguay via paved highway.

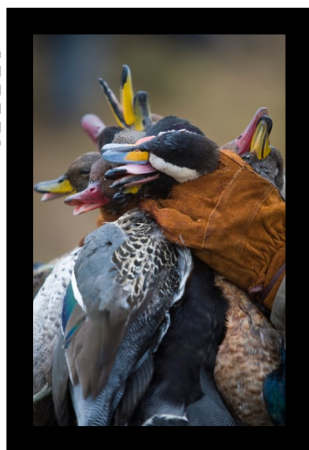

OTHER TRANSFER OPTIONS WHICH MAY BE CONSIDERED ARE:

Private Charter from Montevideo: Guests arriving into Montevideo may choose to expedite their travels by chartering to the Paysandú airport (40 minutes flight) located approximately 20 minutes from the lodge. Private Charters from Buenos Aires: Charter options are also available directly to Uruguay from Buenos Aires for those guests arriving from an Argentine lodge, who have been enjoying the city or who have arrived into Buenos Aires internationally.

BIRD SPECIES

- PERDIZ Much has been written about this very sporting and tasty bird. One of the highest concentrations of perdiz in Uruguay is in the region of Paysandú, where San Juan is located.
- DOVES The eared dove is the most prolific dove in South America, and it's also become, over the last several decades, one of the most important sporting birds for well-traveled bird hunters. Fortunately, the San Juan property envelopes on of the biggest dove roost in Uruguay, which is just 5 minutes away from the main lodge.
- PIGEONS In addition to the species listed above, Uruguay is also host to several species of wild pigeons. Sometimes we have them in great numbers, flying with the doves, or their flight line may overlap that of the ducks. Sometimes they're found flying alone, in which case we seek to decoy them on dry land.

Lots of birds, short drives and the highest of standards adhered to.

A true mixed bag, ducks, doves, pigeons and perdiz over pointers!
